Nem teúdas, nem manteúdas: História das Mulheres e Direito na capitania da Paraíba (Brasil, 1661–1822)

Coutinho Silva, Luisa Stella de Oliveira

Published by Max Planck Institute for Legal History and Legal Theory

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/82980

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=2836925
This book studies the women of colonial Paraíba, a captaincy in northeastern Brazil. Based on daily life cases from archives in Portugal and Brazil, it shows that the law of the metropole was not simply transplanted to the colony. Instead, it interacted with local normativities, providing options to women depending on the intersection of their status and condition, religion and sexuality. The study demonstrates the flexibility of sex and gender categories according to the practice of law.

http://global.rg.mpg.de