Global Domestic Workers

Marchetti, Sabrina, Cherubini, Daniela

Published by Bristol University Press

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/85774

For content related to this chapter https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=3005091
“This book is a major contribution to our understanding of the crucial role of domestic work in the global political economy and the transformative power of the struggle of domestic workers across the world.”

Silvia Federici, Hofstra University

“Global Domestic Workers provides the most up to date portrait of this worldwide essential workforce, made even more precarious during COVID times.”

Eileen Boris, University of California, Santa Barbara

Sabrina Marchetti is Associate Professor in Sociology at University Ca’ Foscari in Venice.

Daniela Cherubini is Assistant Professor of Sociology of Culture at the University of Milano-Bicocca.

Giulia Garofalo Geymonat is Senior Research Fellow at the University Ca’ Foscari in Venice.

EPDF and EPUB available Open Access under CC-BY-NC licence.

Drawing from the EU-funded DomEQUAL research project across nine countries in Europe, South America and Asia, this comparative study explores the conditions of domestic workers around the world and the campaigns they are conducting to improve their labour rights.

The book showcases how domestic workers’ movements put ‘intersectionality in action’ in representing the interest of various marginalized social groups from migrants and low-income groups to racialized and rural girls and women.

Casting light on issues such as subjectification, and collective organizing on the part of a category of workers conventionally regarded as unorganizable, this ambitious volume will be invaluable for scholars, policy makers and activists alike.