Constructing the Higher Education Student

Gupta, Achala, Brooks, Rachel

Published by Bristol University Press

Gupta, Achala and Rachel Brooks.
Constructing the Higher Education Student: Perspectives from across Europe.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/101188.

For additional information about this book https://muse.jhu.edu/book/101188

For content related to this chapter https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=3175491
Index

References to figures appear in italics type; those in bold type refer to tables. References to endnotes show the page number and the note number, followed by the chapter number, e.g. 187n4(ch1).

13 Semester 11, 85, 179

A

ABC 10, 35, 61, 142, 143
Abidin, C. 114
Abrahams, J. 5, 13, 17, 70, 77, 118 academic abilities see incompetent, students as lazy and active citizenship 46–47, 50, 53, 64 adulthood markers of 37
transition to 24–25, 32–35, 39–42
Ahier, J. 47
Ahmed, S. 143, 151
alcohol see drinking culture
Altbach, P. 53
Alves, M. 5
Amaral, A. 70
Anderson, R.D. 15
Andersson, J. 153
Anglo-American model 2, 3
Antonowicz, D. 20, 59
Antonacci, L. 5, 119
Armstrong, E. 6
Arnett, J.J. 40, 41
Ask, K. 114
Auerbach, R.P. 114
Australia 3, 114, 120

B

Bacchi, C. 167
Baker, D.P. 103
Ball, S. 89
Ball, S.J. 2
Bathmaker, A.-M. 25, 139
Beaumont, E. 25
Becker, G.S. 92, 99
becoming 26, 32, 39, 44
Bednarek, A. 90
Bennett, D. 92
Bennett, K. 53
Berg, T. 29
Bessant, J. 67
Bhabha, H. 154, 168
Biesta, G. 39, 47, 51, 54, 68, 109
Bildung 14, 38, 39, 71, 109–111, 159, 160
see also Dannelse
Bills, D.B. 101

Blichfeldt, B.S. 25
Bloom, A. 18
Boden, R. 92
Böhme, G. 104
Boliver, V. 89
Bologna Process 2, 5, 16, 19, 22, 70, 71, 122
Bonal, X. 22, 148, 161
Bonnard, C. 92
Bourdieu, P. 101
Bregnbaek, S. 115
broadsheets 10, 187n4(ch1)
Brooks, R. 5, 17, 46, 65, 70, 77, 92, 94, 118, 129, 131, 145, 147
Brown, P. 92, 93, 101, 119
BT 10, 31, 62, 96, 123, 136
bulimia learning 73, 122
Bunce, L. 50
Burke, J.P. 139

C

Calver, K. 114
Cantwell, B. 2
career identity 25, 29
Cartmel, F. 56
censorship 141, 143, 151
Chevalier, T. 36, 37
China 115
Chiu, Y.L.T. 133, 139
Christie, H. 25
citizens, students as 23, 46–68
cceptualisation 46–48
contestation within media 60–62
staff and policy perspectives 63–67
student perspectives 48–60
future citizens 55–56
national citizens 54–55
political participation 56–58 (see also political actors, students as) responsibility to be critical 50–54
self-identification 48–50
variations between and within nation-states 58–60
citizenship
active 46–47, 50, 53, 64
familialised 36
global 55
individualised 37
neo-liberal 47
social 36

civic learning 47, 51, 54

Clancy, P. 20
Clarke, J. 47, 169

Clique 11, 61, 153, 179

Collins, R. 101

comparative research 7
competition 125, 126–127, 162
and societal individualism 127–129

and societal individualism 127–129

consumerism 2

consumer rights 50, 63

consumers, students as 3–4, 17, 59, 70, 71, 77, 135

Côté, J.E. 40

Council of Europe 46

countries involved in research 8

cultural availability 115, 129–131, 132, 168

collaboration 101

cultural research 7

culture wars 18, 143
culture wars 18, 143

Cunningham, S. 47
culture wars 18, 143

Cvetkovski, S. 114
culture wars 18, 143

D

Daily Mail 10, 62, 80, 128, 135, 140, 153

Danvers, E. 139
data collection 14
de la Torre, E. 22
delahunty, J. 90
della Porta, D. 58, 59
democracy 47
democratic availability 50

democratic participation 50

see also political participation

Danmark

Bildung discourse 110, 111, 160 (see also Dannelse)
country characteristics 8

HE-related data 15

hierarchies between HEIs 88
hierarchies between HEIs 88
institutional perspectives 11–12
labour market transition 29, 30, 31
national policy contexts 14–16

newspapers 10

personal transformation 32

political engagement 59

staff profiles 181

students as citizens 49, 51, 52–53, 54, 55, 58, 63

students as future workers 5, 72–73

human capital discourse 94, 96, 97–98

students as grown up 37–38, 161

students as lazy and incompetent 80, 137, 138

students as learners 70, 72, 74, 75–76, 78

students as not fully adult 43

students as political actors 64–65, 168

students’ lifestyle choices 145

dependency culture 135
devolution 29, 32, 35

Devinney, T. 55

Didaktik 109

Die Welt 10, 95, 96, 135
disciplines of study, hierarchies between 86–88, 166

Dobbins, M. 2, 70

Doblyté, S. 118

Donald, W.E. 25, 29
drinking culture 152, 153
driven learners 73–78

Duffy, A. 114

E

Ecclestone, K. 32, 115, 141 educational citizens 62

education see higher education educational philosophies see Bildung

Bildung: Dannelse

Edwards, E. 2

Edwards, R. 109

El País 10, 35, 61, 62, 96, 142, 143–144

Ellis, M. 22

emerging adulthood 40, 41

employability 5, 25, 70, 74–75, 94

see also labour market transition

England

country characteristics 8

free speech 151

HE-related data 15

hierarchies between disciplines of study 82–83

hierarchies between HEIs 86–88

institutions perspectives 12

labour market transition 29

national policy contexts 16–18

newspapers 10

residential model 160

social class 88, 89

social investment model 5–6

staff profiles 182

stress 121, 122

students perspectives on negative stereotypes 153

students as citizens 49–50, 52, 53, 58, 63

students as consumers 77

students as future workers 72–73
credentialist discourse 105, 106
human capital discourse 94, 97
students as hard workers 79, 80
students as learners 70, 71–72, 74, 76
students as not fully adult 43, 44
students as political actors 66
students’ mental wellbeing 114–115, 115–116
students’ political activism 139–141
transition to adulthood 32–35
TV series and films 11
vocational perspective 108
enthusiastic learners 73–78
Ertl, H. 19, 39
Eskin, M. 115
European Commission 2, 46
European Credit Transfer System (ECTS) 16
European Higher Education Area 2, 70
European students 150, 151
European Union (EU) 2, 47
Europeanisation 148, 161
Eurostat 21, 22, 127
Eurostudent 34, 36, 158
Eurostudents 7, 22
countries involved in research 8
Evans, K. 47
Excellence Initiative 18–19, 21
excess unemployment 16

F
familial dependence 36, 146–148, 161
familialised citizenship 36
Farber, P. 11
Fernández-Santos, Y. 22
films see TV series and films
Finn, K. 77, 115, 131, 133, 135, 151
Fleming, T. 20
Fotiadou, M. 92
free speech 18, 62, 143, 151
freedom to learn (Lernfreiheit) 15, 19, 38, 39, 70, 123, 160 Fresh Meat 11, 179
hierarchies between disciplines of study 85
hierarchies between HEIs 88
political participation 61
social class 90
stress 119, 120
students in transition 34
wellbeing 116
Frey, C. 107
Fuga de Cerebros 11, 180–181
Furlong, A. 56
future citizens 55–56
future, concerns about 125–127 future workers, students as 5–6, 23, 50, 53, 72–73, 92–112
credentialist discourse 101–106
discourses of opposition 106–111
human capital discourse 92–100
in policy narratives 84
see also worker–citizens
Fyfe, I. 133, 146

G
Gabriel, Y. 144–145
Gagnon, J. 143
Gale, T. 25–26, 29, 32, 35, 39, 44
Gazeta Wyborcza 10, 61, 96
Gedye, S. 25
generational criticism 144–148
Germany
Bildung discourse 110, 111 (see also Bildung)
country characteristics 8
habitus disconnect 124
HE-related data 15
hierarchies between disciplines of study 84–85
hierarchies between HEIs 87
institutional perspectives 12
labour market transition 29, 30
national policy contexts 18–19
newspapers 10
personal transformation 32
staff profiles 182
stress 116, 118, 119, 120, 122, 128, 129, 130, 131
student transition 38–39, 159–160
students as citizens 56
students as future workers
credentialist discourse 104, 105–106
human capital discourse 94–95, 98
students as learners 70, 73, 75–76, 78
students as political actors 60, 61, 64, 65
TV series and films 11
Gierus, J. 118
Glick Schiller, N. 7, 163
global citizenship 55
globalisation 1–2
González, J.F. 60, 143
grade inflation 80, 135
graduate premiums 94
Gram, M. 25
Grant, J. 18, 49, 151
Gravett, K. 25, 39
Green, A. 2
Greenfield, L. 129
Gregersen, A. 162
Grigsby, M. 77
Guardian 10, 62, 96, 115, 130, 141

H
habitus disconnect 124–125, 167
Haidt, J. 18
Haj, C.M. 27
Hamilton, L. 6
Hammond, C. 47, 55
Hansen, K.-H. 109

Harris, A. 47

Harrison, N. 27

Hayes, D. 115, 141

Hazelkorn, E. 17, 20, 87, 89

HE-related data by country 15

Hodkinson, P. 114

Hodkinson, P . 119

Holl, G. 11

Hopmann, S. 109

Horlacher, R. 109

Hoskins, B. 46, 47

Hudson, B. 109

human capital discourse 5, 92–100, 112

humanities 82, 83, 84, 85

Humboldtian model 15, 19, 20, 39, 70, 109, 123, 159

Hurst, A.L. 77

ideal students 133–144, 139, 141, 146, 148, 150, 161

identity politics 143

identity work 25

implied students 133, 134

incompetent, students as lazy and 80, 134–139, 155

student perspectives 148–150

independent learners 134, 136, 139

individualised citizenship 37

Ingram, N. 13

institutional habitus 89

institutional perspectives 11–12

instrumental learners 69–73, 75, 78

Ireland

country characteristics 8

dependence on family 146–148

habitus disconnect 125

HE-related data 15

hierarchies between disciplines of study 84–85

hierarchies between HEIs 88

human capital discourse 94, 97

labour market transition 29

national policy contexts 19–20

newspapers 10

social class 88–89

staff profiles 183

stress 128, 129–30

students as citizens 50, 51, 53, 54, 55, 56, 58

students as hard workers 79

students as lazy and

incompetent 137–138

students as learners 72, 73, 76

students as political actors 66

students’ mental wellbeing 116

students’ political activism 139–141

transition to adulthood 32–35

TV series and films 11

vocational perspective 108

Irish Independent 10, 62, 140

Irish Times 10, 61, 116, 135, 140

Irwin, S. 27

Isopahkala-Bouret, U. 52

J

Jones, G. 133

K

Keating, A. 46, 47, 55

Keeling, R. 92

Kehm, B.M. 19, 102

Khan, S. 114

Klemencia, M. 65, 67

Kosmützky, A. 7

Kwiek, M. 4, 20, 21, 157, 158

L

labour market 107

labour market participation 52

see also future workers, students as

labour market transition 28–31

see also employability

Lainio, A. 131, 147

language 13–14

Larcombe, W. 114

Lavalette, M. 47

Lažetić, P. 92

lazy and incompetent, students as 80, 134–139, 155

student perspectives 148–150

212
Index

Leaker, A. 141, 143, 151 learner identities 89–90

learners, students as 3, 4, 23, 50, 69–91
enthusiastic and driven 73–78
hard workers 78–82
hierarchies between disciplines of study 82–86
hierarchies between HEIs 86–88
passive and instrumental 69–73
social class 88–91
see also independent learners

Leathwood, C. 139

Leistungsgesellschaft 104–105

Lešyté, L. 2
Lernfreiheit 15, 19, 38, 39, 70, 123, 160

Lesko, N. 44
Li, Z. 25

lifestyle choices 144–148
liminality 39

Lingard, B. 2
Littler, J. 79, 124

Llamas, J.M.C. 133
Loader, B. 5
Loukakis, A. 60
Loveday, V. 139
Lukianoff, G. 18

Lynch, K. 20

M

Macfarlane, B. 133, 136

Madsen, M. 16
Madsen, S.R. 16, 76, 123, 150
Maguire, M. 100

marginalisation 42–44
marginalised students 150–151

Marginson, S. 93
marketisation 17, 48, 70
Marqués, A.C. 131
Marsh, D. 67
Martínez-Campillo, A. 22
Massey, D. 53

materialistic lifestyles 144–145
Matthews, K.E. 75
maturation 29, 35

McGettigan, A. 161
media discourse / perspectives 9–11
hedonistic students 153–154
political activism 151

STEM subjects 84, 85
stress 115, 128, 130
students as citizens 60–62
students as future workers 95–96
students as lazy and incompetent 134–137
students as over-sensitive and immature 140–141
students in transition 31
see also newspapers; TV series and films

Mendick, H. 79, 124

mental wellbeing 114–115
see also stress

Merli 11, 60–61, 85, 90–91, 119, 181

methodological nationalism 7
Michael-Fox, B. 114
millennial students 133, 145–146

Molesworth, M. 4, 70, 135
‘more means worse’ 133

Moreno, L. 148
Moutsios, S. 2, 4, 70
Muddiman, E. 4
multiple commitments 118–120

N

Naidoo, R. 4, 17, 50, 70 nation-states 2

students as citizens 58–60
understandings of students commonalities across 158–159 convergence within 162–165 differences between 159–162
see also countries involved in research

national citizens 54–55
national policy contexts 14–22
nationalism, methodological 7

Navarro-Pérez, J.J. 131

Nedeva, M. 92

Nejrup, C. 16

neo-liberal citizenship 47
neo-liberal models 20, 87

Neves, J. 114

New Zealand 48
Newman, J.H. 17–18, 20, 187n1(ch4)

newspapers 10

political activism 61, 62

STEM subjects 85

stress 123
students as citizens 60–62
students as future workers 95–96
students as just lazy and incompetent 80, 134–137

students as over-sensitive and immature 140–141

students as passive 73

students as violent threat 142–144
see also individual newspapers

Nielsen, G. 5, 16, 76

Nissen, S. 48, 65

Nixon, E. 70, 136

no-platforming 61, 140, 187n1(ch3)

Normal People 11, 88, 90, 116, 120, 124, 130, 180

nuisance students 151–154

Nyland, C. 50

O

occupational closure 101

OECD 118

Olcese, C. 5
O’Shea, S. 25, 90, 139
Ozga, J. 2

P
parents 35–36, 146–148, 161
Park, B. 67
Parker, S. 25–26, 29, 32, 35, 39, 44
party animals 153
party credentials / party pathway 6 passive learners 69–73, 77
pedagogical change 49 Perez-Esparrells, C. 22 performance, culture of 128 performance society 104–105 peripheral students 150–151
personal transformation 31–39
Philips, D. 1, 7, 165
Phillips, L. 22
Phipps, A. 129
Pickard, S. 53, 56
Pickett, K. 129
Pilkington, H. 58
plasticine modelling 13
European students 150
stress 117, 121, 126, 127
student identity 157
student perspectives on negative stereotypes 149
students as citizens 51, 57
students as hedonistic 84, 152
students as learners 75, 76, 77, 79, 83
students in transition 33, 34, 42
Poland
country characteristics 8
credentialist discourse 104
HE-related data 15
hierarchies between disciplines of study 83, 84
human capital discourse 94, 95, 97, 112
institutional perspectives 12
labour market transition 29, 30
mental wellbeing 162
millennial students 145–146
national policy contexts 20–21
newspapers 10
political engagement 59
staff profiles 184
stress 113, 118, 161–162
student identity 156–158
students as citizens 55–56
students as learners 72, 74
students as political actors 65, 66
transition to adulthood 32–35
vocational perspective 108
policy actors 30
policy documents 172–178
policy narratives 84
policy perspectives 7–9
impact 167–169
political engagement 63–67
similarities across nations 159
students as future workers 93–95
students as lazy and incompetent 137–139
Polish Student Parliament 65
political participation 139–144, 151
see also political participation;
estudent activism
political actors, students as 4–5, 59–62, 168
political participation 48, 56–58
in the media 60–62
staff and policy perspectives 63–67
see also democratic participation Politiken 10, 31, 62, 96, 117, 123, 128, 136–137
Pollack, G. 58
Portos, M. 60
positional competition 105–106
Powell, J.J. 27
public responsibility model 6
Purvis, T. 11
R Raaper, R. 17, 70
rational choices 99–100
Reay, D. 89, 99, 124, 139
Reher, D. 147
residential model 6, 34, 160
“Rhodes Must Fall” campaign 140
Riddell, S. 26
rights v. responsibilities 50–54 risk 133
Rivera, L.A. 101
Roberts, S. 25
Robertson, K. 153
Romer, 109
Rzeczpospolita 10, 62, 95, 135
S safe spaces 140, 141
safetyism 18
Sam, C. 2, 3
Sarauw, L.L. 5, 16, 76, 123, 150
school systems 72
Schultz, T.W. 92
Schweisfurth, M. 1, 7, 165
Scotland 17
screening and signalling theory 101, 103 self-discovery 31, 42
self-identification 48–50
Shin, J.-C. 48
Singapore 4
Sizing Model 16
Slaughter, S. 2
Sloam, J. 55
snowflakes 139–140
social actors 29–31
social citizenship 36
social class 88–91, 166–167
see also habitus disconnect social democratic models 20, 87
social investment model 5–6
social sciences 82, 83, 84, 85 socialisation model of civic learning 47, 51 socialites, students as 6 societal individualism 127–129
South Korea 48
Souto-Otero, M. 101
Spain
Bildung discourse 110–111
countries about the future 126–127
country characteristics 8
dependence on family 146–148
familial dependence 161
HE-related data 15
hierarchies between disciplines of study 82, 83–84, 84
hierarchies between HEIs 88
institutional perspectives 12
labour market transition 29
millennial students 145–146
national policy contexts 21–22
newspapers 10
personal transformation 32
political activity 59
staff profiles 184
stress 113, 116, 120, 121, 131, 132, 164
student perspectives on negative stereotypes 150–151
students as children 35–36, 40, 43–44
students as citizens 49, 52, 57
students as future workers
credentialist discourse 102, 103–104, 105, 106
human capital discourse 94–95, 96, 98
students as hard workers 80
students as learners 73, 74, 75, 76
students as political actors 60, 64, 65, 66, 168
students as violent threat 142–44
TV series and films 11
unemployment 162
vocational perspective 108
Spence, M. 101
Spiegler, T. 90
staff perspectives
Bildung discourse 110
culture of performance 128
millennial students 146
similarities across nations 159
stress 117–118, 120, 122, 123, 129, 129–130
versus student perspectives 163–165
students as citizens 63–67
students as hard workers 78–82, 120–124
students as learners 70–72, 90
students’ lifestyle choices 144
vocational perspective 108
staff profiles 181–184
Stein, G.L. 131
STEM 80, 82, 84, 85
Stiwne, E. 5
stress 113–132, 155, 161–162, 163, 164–165, 168
as common construction 115–118 considerations about the future 125–127
habitus disconnect 124–125
increased disclosure and cognitive availability 129–131 and mental wellbeing 114–115
multiple commitments 118–120
pressure to work harder 120–124 societal individualism and competition 127–129 student activism 48
see also political activism student citizens 5
student focus group participants 185–186
student identity 25, 29, 37, 70, 114, 130, 156–158
student perspectives 12–13
on framing as human capital 96–98 on labour market transition 28–29 on negative stereotypes 148–154 versus other social actors 163–165 on students as citizens 48–60
future citizens 55–56
national citizens 54–55
political participation 56–58
responsibility to be critical 50–54
self-identification 48–50
variations between and within nation-states 58–60
on students as learners 73–78
on themselves as rational choosers 99–100 student societies 5
students
as citizens 23, 46–68
conceptualisation 46–48
contestation within media 60–62
staff and policy perspectives 63–67
student perspectives 48–60
as consumers 3–4, 17, 59, 70, 71, 77, 135 as future workers 5–6, 23, 50, 53, 72–73, 92–112 (see also worker-citizens)
credentialist discourse 101–106
discourses of opposition 106–111
human capital discourse 92–100
in policy narratives 84
generational criticism of 144–148 and globalisation 1–2
as hard workers 78–82, 120–124
as learners 70–72, 90
students’ lifestyle choices 144
vocational perspective 108
idealised notions of 133–134, 139, 141, 146, 148, 150, 161
institutional perspectives 11–12
as lazy and incompetent 134–139, 155
student perspectives 148–150
as learners 3, 4, 23, 50, 69–91 (see also independent learners)
enthusiastic and driven 73–78
hard workers 78–82
hierarchies between disciplines of study 82–86
hierarchies between HEIs 86–88
passive and instrumental 69–73
social class 88–91
media perspectives 9–11
mental wellbeing 114–115
as over-sensitive and immature 139–141
policy perspectives 7–9
as political actors 4–5, 59–62, 168
as socialites 6
as stressed see stress
student perspectives 12–13
in transition 22–23, 24–45, 161
between childhood and adulthood 39–42
to labour market 28–31
literature 24–6
as marginalising construction 42–44
national differences 159–160
normalisation of 26–28
personal transformation 31–39
understandings of commonalities across nations 158–159 convergence within nation-states 162–165 differences between nations 159–162
impact 167–169
as violent threat 142–144
students’ unions 5, 59
Study Progress Reform 16, 62, 71, 76, 122, 123, 162 subjectification model of civic learning 47–48, 54, 68
Süddeutsche Zeitung 10, 61
Sukarieh, M. 5, 64
Sykes, G. 6, 133
systemic unemployment 16
Szukalska, H. 118

T

tabloids 10, 187n4(ch1)
Tabor, E. 114
Tannock, S. 5, 64
Tarabini, A. 22, 148, 161
Teichler, U. 102
therapeutic culture 141
Thornham, S. 11
threat 133
students’ political activism as 139–144, 151
Tidman, Z. 151
Tight, M. 165
Tomlinson, M. 4, 77, 92, 93, 99, 101, 103
traditional students 133
Tran, L. 50
transition, students in 22–23, 24–45, 161
between childhood and adulthood 39–42
to labour market 28–31
literature 24–26
as marginalising construction 42–44
national differences 159–160
normalisation of 26–28
personal transformation 31–39
trigger warnings 62, 140, 187n2(ch3) tuition fees 2, 3, 6
Denmark 30
England 17, 71, 122
Germany 18, 30
Ireland 19, 147
Poland 21, 30
South Korea 48
Spain 22, 59, 147
Tustin, K. 153
TV series and films 11, 60
plot summaries 179–181
see also specific programmes
Tyler, I. 154

U

UK 3, 4, 6, 17, 48
see also England
Ulriksen, L. 16, 133, 134
unemployment 16, 17, 18, 19, 21, 22, 127, 162
universities 107
see also higher education institutions (HEIs) university education
models 2, 15
see also higher education
USA 3, 69–70, 77, 114
Usher, R. 2, 109

V

van der Sijde, P. 2, 3 Van Oorschot, W. 137, 145
violent threat, students as 142–144 vocation 107–108
vulnerability 141

W

Walsemann, K. 114
Waugh, C. 141
Weeden, K.A. 101
Weedon, E. 26
Weiss, F. 101
welfare benefits 145, 160
Welt, Die 10, 95, 96, 135
Whyte, W.H. 34
Wilkinson, L.C. and M.D. 77
Wilkinson, R. 129
Williams, J. 5, 6, 9, 17, 48, 70, 114
Wimmer, A. 7, 163
Winkler, P. 118
Wir sind die Neuen 11, 81, 120–121, 180
Wong, B. 133, 139
Woodman, D. 146
worker-citizens 52, 54, 58
see also future workers, students as Wright, K. 141
Wyn, J. 133, 146

Y
Ylijoki, O.-H. 145
Yosso, T.J. 139
Young, I. 129
youth studies 133
youth unemployment 21
youthhood 40, 43

Z
Zamponi, L. 60, 143