Contents

List of figures ix
List of tables xii
Notes on contributors xiii

1 Self-build homes: social values and the lived experience of housing in practice 1
Michaela Benson and Iqbal Hamiduddin

Part 1: Discourse, rationale, meaning 15
2 Community building: self-build and the neighbourhood commons 17
Iqbal Hamiduddin

3 Models of self-build and collaborative housing in the United Kingdom 38
Martin Field

4 Eco-homes for all: why the socio-cultural matters in encouraging eco-building 56
Jenny Pickerill

Part 2: Values, lifestyles, imaginaries 79
5 From cultures of resistance to the new social movements: DIY self-build in West Wales 81
Elaine Forde

6 Protohome: rethinking home through co-production 96
Julia Heslop

7 Of flux or finality? On the process and dynamics of a co-housing group in formation 115
Melissa Fernández Arrigoitia and Kathleen Scanlon
Part 3:  Community and identity

8  Self-building as a practice of homemaking: the affective spaces of unfinished homes
   Michaela Benson 141

9  Senior co-housing: restoring sociable community in later life
   Jim Hudson 157

10 Something wonderful in my back yard: the social impetus for group self-building
    Emma Heffernan and Pieter de Wilde 174

11 Building a self: community self-build and the reconstruction of identity
    Katherine Collins 192

Part 4:  Perspectives from practice

12 Self-build neighbourhoods for living and working: a view from Tübingen, Germany
   Andreas Feldtkeller 209

13 Turning the theory into reality
   Ted Stevens 227

14 Taking self-build out of its ‘small and special box’: citizens as agents for the political and the social of self-build
   Stephen Hill 247

   Conclusion
   New directions: self-build, social values and lived experience 267
   Iqbal Hamiduddin and Michaela Benson

Notes 276
References 279
Index 310