Self-Build Homes

Benson, Michaela, Hamiduddin, Iqbal

Published by University College London

Benson, Michaela and Iqbal Hamiduddin.
Self-Build Homes: Social Discourse, Experiences and Directions.
University College London, 2017.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/81976.

_for additional information about this book_ https://muse.jhu.edu/book/81976

_for content related to this chapter_ https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=2781864
List of figures

2.1 Four interlinked common-pool resources 20
2.2 Age profiles of three neighbourhoods in Freiburg (Hamiduddin, 2015) 28
2.3 Neighbourly contact in three neighbourhoods compared 29
2.4 How well different social groups mix 30
2.5 ‘Soft boundaries’ maintain a relationship between homes and streets (© Iqbal Hamiduddin) 32
3.1 BSHF data on UK ‘community-led’ housing, cf. Fisher (2016) 47
4.1 Hybrid self-built eco-home at Lama Foundation, New Mexico, USA 58
4.2a Street design at LILAC (Leeds) and Lancaster 67
4.2b Co-Housing (Halton) (© Jenny Pickerill) 67
4.3 Almost complete straw bale and turf-roofed house at Green Hills (© Jenny Pickerill) 70
4.4 Tao and Hoppi’s house at Lammas eco-village, Glandwr, Wales (© Jenny Pickerill) 71
4.5 Cassi and Nigel’s house at Tir y Gafel, Glandwr, Wales (© Jenny Pickerill) 72
4.6 A ‘tiny home’ at Trelay community, Cornwall (© Jenny Pickerill) 75
5.1 West Wales Map (© Elaine Forde) 88
5.2 The framework for a reciprocal roof (© Elaine Forde) 94
6.1 Protohome (© Julia Heslop) 101
6.2 Walter’s Way, Lewisham (© Julia Heslop) 103
6.3 The interior of Protohome (© Julia Heslop) 105
6.4 Participants making joints in the Crisis workshop (© Julia Heslop) 106
6.5 The site build (Photo credit: John Hipkin) 108
6.6 Protohome open to the public (Photo credit: John Hipkin) 109
7.1 Featherstone then (© National Archives) 122
7.2 Featherstone now (© Melissa Fernández Arrigoitia) 122
7.3 A feature story on Phoenix House (© Honey magazine, March 1973) 124
7.4 A garden ‘jamboree’ with Phoenix House residents (© National Archives) 124
7.5 Featherstone entrance hall, 2013 (© Melissa Fernández Arrigoitia) 128
7.6 Timeline from September 2014 facilitation session (© Melissa Fernández Arrigoitia) 130
7.7 Styrofoam architectural model of Featherstone co-housing (© Melissa Fernández Arrigoitia) 132
10.1 Interviewee profile matrix 180
10.2 Identified benefits of group self-build housing 182
10.3 Identified motivations for group self-build housing 186
12.1 Model of the project in its environment 213
12.2 View over the rooftops of the French Quarter 214
13.1a Tübingen’s (top) and Freiburg’s (bottom) pioneering projects (© Ted Stevens) 229
13.2 The ‘infamous chart’, produced on the basis of findings reported in Duncan and Rowe (1992) 230
13.3 MPs and others on a tour around some of Berlin’s most interesting group projects (© Ted Stevens) 231
13.4 The Eco-Logis development convinced the local mayor to support similar projects (© Ted Stevens) 233
13.5 The density of the ‘Plots Wanted’ notices on the Self Build Portal gives a fair indication of the level of demand around the UK 235
13.6 The Eleven Friends terrace of homes in Berlin (© Ted Stevens) 237
13.7 The FUCVAM self-build co-operative housing initiative in Uruguay (Photo credit: BSHF) 238
13.8 Self-build plots like these in France often cost less than a new car (© Ted Stevens) 240
13.9 Results of NaCSBA survey relating the key barriers to self-build 242
13.10 The homes on the first Potton site near St Helens are now coming out of the ground (© Buildstore) 243
13.11 Self-builders in Amsterdam camping in a car park for six weeks to get their plots (© Zelfbrouw Amsterdam) 244
14.1 East 4th Street today, where Cooper Square Committee have their offices and community resource centre (© Stephen Hill) 251
14.2 London mayor Boris Johnson ‘laying the first brick’ at the London CLT’s first project at St Clement’s Hospital, Bow, East London, in 2014 … over 10 years after the first mayoral commitment to London Citizens to support a CLT in London on the Olympic Park. St Clement’s became the ‘pilot project’ for the Olympic CLT, which has not yet happened (© Stephen Hill) 254

14.3 Residents learning about land use analysis for the Andover Estate Development Plan (© Stephen Hill) 256

14.4 Soul in the City festival at the Andover Estate, 2013 (© Stephen Hill) 257

14.5 6,000 members of London Citizens at the April 2016 London mayoral hustings hear mayoral candidates promise to support CLTs and co-housing (© Stephen Hill) 265