List of figures

Volume 1

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Section</th>
<th>Title</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>0.1</td>
<td>Substantive ambivalence</td>
<td>10</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>0.2</td>
<td>Normative ambivalence</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>0.3</td>
<td>Functional ambivalence</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>0.4</td>
<td>Motivational ambivalence</td>
<td>13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.3.1</td>
<td>Murals in Santa Clara, Cuba. Translation:</td>
<td>49</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.1.3.1</td>
<td>Inmaek, yongo, yonjul – interrelatedness and possible tie development</td>
<td>80</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1.15.1</td>
<td>Cartoon representation of agashka</td>
<td>88</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.1.1</td>
<td>The top of a bamboo box given to guests at a wedding as a return gift and envelopes with different meanings – one is for an auspicious occasion that can occur more than one time, and one is for a funeral</td>
<td>132</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.4.1</td>
<td>At the customs</td>
<td>141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.8.1</td>
<td>Local representations of magharich</td>
<td>156</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.9.1</td>
<td>Forklift driver holds up money as if to say: ‘Is this all I'm worth? I can get a lot more moonlighting’</td>
<td>158</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.10.1</td>
<td>Public mita-giving at a Gabor Roma wedding</td>
<td>162</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.12.1</td>
<td>Although biombo in Costa Rica is used to mean a small bribe, usually paid to a medical professional, in the rest of Latin America (and the world) it means a Japanese-style folding screen used as a room divider</td>
<td>169</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2.13.1</td>
<td>Policemen</td>
<td>173</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.3.1</td>
<td>Doing ethnographic fieldwork in Kyrgyzstan</td>
<td>228</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.8.1</td>
<td>Wantok groups contributing and reciprocating the earlier assistance and generosity of other wantok groups in local Guadalcanal community, Solomon Islands</td>
<td>247</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3.11.1</td>
<td>Commemorative plaque at Sandemose’s birthplace in Nykøbing Mors</td>
<td>256</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
3.11.2 Anja Andersen as coach for the Danish handball team Slagelse HF

3.19.1 Narcisismo e cecità dei baroni uccidono l’accademia italiana (The Narcissism and Blindness of Barons is Killing Italian Academia), Corriere della Sera, 28 January 2015

3.21.1 One of the most famous tattoos of ‘thieves-in-law’

3.22.1 Some notorious underground bosses, who were involved in racketeering, became widely known in Bulgaria. This picture shows a selection of biographies of some famous criminal figures sold at a Bulgarian petrol station

3.23.1 Cultural practices in Southern Italy

4.2.1 Magnet recorder, self-made at one of St Petersburg’s industrial plants in the 1970s

4.3.1 ‘Music on the bones’ (X-rays used for recording)

4.4.1 Cover page of the Chronicle of Current Events 6(11) 31 December 1969

4.5.1 The swear word ‘khuj’ carved into a birch tree, one of the most common and symbolic trees in Russia

4.6.1 A cafe in St Petersburg, name misspelt on purpose (‘bufed’ instead of ‘bufet’/cupboard)

Volume 2

5.1.1 Zurich Altstetten quarter

5.2.1 An occupied flat in Rostock in the 1980s

5.4.1 In the Municipality of San Joaquin, Metropolitan region (Chile) there are 44,079 inhabitants that live as allegados. They have organised into 29 different Housing Committees to apply collectively to social housing, nevertheless due to scarce land in the area and long housing waiting lists only a few have managed to secure land and acquired social housing. The rest wait as allegados, sharing a reduced space with their host family and dreaming of owning their own house

5.5.1 The favela ‘Morro da Coroa’ in Rio de Janeiro, 2009

5.6.1 Cardinal Juan Francisco Fresno campamento. Santiago, Chile, July 1984
5.7.1 Shuafat refugee camp, East Jerusalem (occupied Palestinian territories) 33
5.9.1 The Gleaners by Jean-François Millet, 1857 38
5.10.1 Skipping does not require specific tools: people normally wear washable gloves and coats and use plastic bags or old backpacks to carry the items they find in the bins 43
5.12.1 Artwork depicting Uzbek men engaging in gap meeting over dinner in chaikhona (tea-house) 49
5.13.1 Time of Harvesting (Mowers) by Grigoriy Myasoyedov, 1887 53
5.19.1 Dinner at a mahalla 71
5.20.1 The number of individuals participating in informal and intermediate ROSCAs 75
5.20.2 The amount of contributions (in USD) 75
5.20.3 The total amount distributed in tandas 76
5.25.1 An informal market in front of a railway station close to the Polish-Belarusian border on the Polish side 91
5.26.1 Chelnoki 96
5.27.1 Spaza shop in the town of Velddrif, Western Cape Province, South Africa 100
5.31.1 Chợ cóc (informal market) in Hanoi, 2015 111
5.33.1 Boda-boda taxis 119
5.34.1 Picture taken in Tbilisi, near Galaktion Tabidze bridge. The stayanshik is listening to the radio while waiting for customers 122
5.35.1 Baraholka in Almaty. Photograph by Dena Sholk 127
5.36.1 Trabi and Fića on a Belgrade street, 2003 130
5.39.1 Informal mining in Indonesia 141
5.40.1 The Model of Simple Hawala Transfer 145
5.41.1 Bitcoin symbol 148
6.4.1 Representation of deryban as greedy hands 198
6.5.1 Cost of corruption across EU 201
6.6.1 Milan as Tangentopolis 203
6.8.1 Outside an administrator’s office, ṭāṣṭa is seen here opening the door for an underqualified applicant while denying entry to the candidate with excellent credentials 209
6.13.1 Navigating the world through the double consciousness of kombinacija 225
6.15.1 The sculpture by artist Donato Linzalata appears in the town of Bernalda, Italy and represents raccomandazione as a ‘key’ (to open doors) 231
6.19.1 The two homeless people pictured (László Kutrucz and László Baráth) were CEOs of several companies. The Hungarian subsidiary of Siemens received huge amounts of public money through procurement from Hungarian hospitals. These fake companies had consulting contracts with Siemens. The homeless CEOs’ job was to withdraw money from the fake companies’ bank accounts and give it back in cash to their shadow principals. This case was explored by an investigative journalist, Annett Sipos, and published in HVG (Hungarian economic magazine) in 2006.

6.32.1 Moscow in April 2016

6.33.1 Pony from Poland

6.34.1 Structure of a multilevel pyramid scheme

6.35.1 The practice of flipping was intertwined heavily with the much larger ‘expenses scandal’. The public outrage in reaction to the expenses scandal manifested itself in many forms. This image shows a satirical effigy representing the expenses scandal being paraded at Lewes Guy Fawkes night.

6.40.1 Typology of work cultures

7.1.1 The Town Governor (Voevoda) Arrives to a Provincial Town, by Sergei Vasilievich Ivanov (1864–1910)

7.4.1 Why Our Cities Are Badly Governed (1899). Political boss (the playing card and pistol in his pocket identifying him as a saloon owner and/or associating him with organised crime) dragging loyal businessman and bagger/immigrant to the voting place.

7.7.1 Caricature depicting the application of tazkia by public office holders

7.8.1 Uhljeb criteria

8.7.1 The Chernyakhovsky Special Psychiatric Hospital, where General Grigorenko was interned. The photo is from 2006, but everything looks exactly as in Soviet times.