Social Media in Northern Chile

Haynes, Nell

Published by University College London

Haynes, Nell.
Social Media in Northern Chile: Posting the Extraordinarily Ordinary.
University College London, 2016.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/81841.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/81841

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=2777191
Contents

List of figures x

1. Introduction: Online and on the margins in Alto Hospicio, Chile 1
2. The social media landscape: Performing citizenship online 39
3. Visual posting: The aesthetics of Alto Hospicio 63
4. Relationships: Creating authenticity on social media 88
5. Work and gender: Producing normativity and gendered selves 115
6. The wider world: Imagining community in Alto Hospicio 149
7. Conclusion: The extraordinary ordinariness of Alto Hospicio 177

Appendix 1–Social Media Questionnaire 192
Notes 193
References 207
Index 215