The authors

Pius Achanga is Senior Higher Education Officer at the National Council for Higher Education of Uganda.

Japhet Bakuwa is a doctoral candidate at the Centre for Research on Evaluation, Science and Technology and a lecturer in Philosophy at the University of Malawi.

Paul Effah is Project Director of the Carnegie Corporation sponsored National Council for Tertiary Education (NCTE) Senior Academic Leadership Training (SALT), and former Executive Secretary of the NCTE of Ghana.

Claudia Frittelli is Programme Officer for Higher Education and Research in Africa at Carnegie Corporation of New York.

ABK Kasozi is former Executive Director of the National Council for Higher Education of Uganda.

Sifuni Mchome is former Executive Secretary of the Tanzania Commission for Universities.

Daniel Mkude is a higher education researcher and an advocate, and Professor of Linguistics at the University of Dar es Salaam.

Johann Mouton is Director of CREST and the DST–NRF Centre of Excellence in in Scientometrics and Science, Technology and Innovation Policy at Stellenbosch University.

Emuron Olupot is Senior Higher Education Officer at the National Council for Higher Education of Uganda.

Robin Pocock is Senior Researcher at the Evaluation Research Agency in Cape Town.

Kalunde Pilly Sibuga is Professor, Faculty of Agriculture, Sokoine University of Agriculture, Tanzania.

Lauren Wildschut is Lecturer at CREST, Stellenbosch University and Co-director of the Evaluation Research Agency.