Contents

Published by

Ibsen, Hilde and Tor Halvorsen.

Project MUSE.  muse.jhu.edu/book/57261.

👉 For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/57261
Contents

Acronyms and abbreviations vii
Introduction 1

Tor Halvorsen, Hilde Ibsen, Henri-Count Evans and Sharon Penderis

Part I: KNOWLEDGE AND NEO-LIBERALISM

1 The Sustainable Development Goals, knowledge production and the global struggle over values 13
Tor Halvorsen

2 The Sustainable Development Goals, the Paris Agreement and the Addis Agenda: Neo-liberalism, unequal development and the rise of a new imperialism 37
Henri-Count Evans and Rosemary Musvipwa

3 Academic freedom and its enemies: Lessons from Sweden 57
Jens Stilhoff Sörensen and Erik J Olsson

4 New public management as a mechanism of accumulation by dispossession: The case of a public bulk water provider in South Africa 71
Carina van Rooyen

5 To fit or not to fit, is that the question? Global goals, basic education and theories of knowledge in South Africa and Sweden 93
Hilde Ibsen, Sharon Penderis and Karin Bengtsson

6 Academia in the context of constraint and a performative SDG agenda: A perspective on South Africa 115
Suriamurthee Maistry and Erlend Eidsvik

Part II: NORTH–SOUTH COLLABORATION

7 Contributing to the agenda for sustainable development through North–South educational partnerships: An analysis of two Linnaeus-Palme staff–student exchanges between Sweden and South Africa 131
Kate Rowntree and Roddy Fox
Preparing to build researchers’ capacity in development and community mobilisation: Towards sustainable North–South collaborations 147
Thembinkosi E Mabila and Rachel J Singh

North–South research collaboration and the Sustainable Development Goals: Challenges and opportunities for academics 163
Stephen Mago

Education for employability: A response to industry demands 175
Robert L Martin, Regina Krause, Martha T Namutuwa, Evgenia Mahler and Hartmut Domröse

Part III: CASE STUDIES

Contextual factors affecting the attainment of life satisfaction among elderly people in Zambia’s North-Western province 189
Mubiana K Sitali-Ngoma and Emmy H Mbozi

Home–school relations and the role of indigenous knowledge in early literacy learning: A case study from a rural school in Zambia 207
Anne Marit Vesteraas Danbolt, Dennis Banda, Jørgen Klein and Geoffrey Tambulukani

Relocation of the homestead: A customary practice in the communal areas of north-central Namibia 227
Antti Erkkilä and Nelago Indongo

About the contributors 239