Doctoral Education in South Africa

Mouton, Johann, Cloete, Nico

Published by African Minds

Mouton, Johann and Nico Cloete.
Doctoral Education in South Africa.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/44476.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/44476
Contents

List of figures and tables ........................................ iv
Preface .................................................................. vii
About the authors .............................................. xi
List of frequently used acronyms ....................... xii

Chapter 1
The demand for a doctorate: Global, African and South African contexts 1

Chapter 2
The demand to increase doctorates 27

Chapter 3
The demand for improved efficiency 59

Chapter 4
The demand for transformation 81

Chapter 5
Improve the quality of doctoral education 101

Chapter 6
Multiple paths to success 125

Chapter 7
Incremental change and a paradigm shift 173

Chapter 8
Policy choices and implications 195

Appendices

Appendix 1  Data sources and methodology 215
Appendix 2  Responses to the presentation of preliminary findings from the Study on the Doctorate in South Africa (May 2014) 225
Appendix 3  Current trends in PhD studies: A review of articles published on the University World News website (2013) 246
Appendix 4  Government steering of doctoral production 261
Appendix 5  Additional data on the doctorate in South Africa 265
Appendix 6  Scenarios that will produce doctoral graduates by 2030 270

References ......................................................... 272