Out of Place
Davids, Nuraan

Published by African Minds

Davids, Nuraan.
Out of Place: An Autoethnography of Postcolonial Citizenship.
Project MUSE. muse.jhu.edu/book/101915.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/101915

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=3202340
Nuraan Davids is a Professor of Philosophy of Education in the Department of Education Policy Studies, Faculty of Education at Stellenbosch University, South Africa. Her primary research interests include democratic citizenship education, Islamic philosophy of education, and philosophy of higher education. She is a co-editor of the Routledge series, World Issues in the Philosophy and Theory of Higher Education; co-editor-in-chief of the Journal of Education in Muslim Societies; associate editor of the South African Journal of Higher Education; editorial board member of Ethics and Education. Recent books (with Y Waghid) include: Democratic Education as Inclusion (Rowman & Littlefield – Lexington Series, 2022); Academic Activism in Higher Education: A living philosophy for social justice (Springer, 2021); Teaching, Friendship & Humanity (Springer, 2020); Teachers Matter: Educational philosophy and authentic learning (Rowman & Littlefield – Lexington Series, 2020).