Migrants and Migration in Modern North America

Faires, Nora, Hoerder, Dirk

Published by Duke University Press

Faires, Nora and Dirk Hoerder.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/64097
List of Maps

Geographic and cultural regions of North America 5
First Peoples’ settled spaces at the time of contact: Cultures, languages, nations 6
European empires’ claimed spaces, 1713: Contact zones and spaces and settled areas 7
The change from lived spaces to invented and imposed lines: Boundaries proposed in the Great Britain-U.S. peace negotiations of 1782 8
Acquisitive lines: Borders of the new U.S. states’ western claims, 1783, drawn without knowledge of geography or consultation with the settled First Nations 9
U.S. expansion, 1783–1853, 1840, 1876, and 1898, and 1917, including acquisition of the territories’ societies and peoples 11
The cultural regions of North America: Migration and bicultural spaces 12
Contrast: The master narrative’s view of an orphan nation filled by European immigrants 13
The twelve socioeconomic regions of North America, a 1960s perspective 24
Transborder migrations in the North: Empirical data 28
A Canadian-born persons in the North Central states of the United States, 1890 28
B Canadian-born French-language persons in New York and New England, 1900 29
C Rural settlement along the St. Paul–Winnipeg route, 1881 29
D U.S.-born persons in Canada’s Prairie Provinces, 1911 29
Persons identified as Mexican by IPUMS, 1900 52
Persons identified as Mexican by IPUMS, 1930 52
Migratory movements into and out of the Caribbean, 1810s–1930s 102
The interconnected world of the Caribbean, 1840–1940 103
Cultures and trading routes, 350–1350 CE in Mesoamerica and the Greater North American Southwest 154
List of Maps

Transitions: New Spain/Mexico—Native Peoples—U.S. Territories 158
East–west routes, 1830s–1860s 162
Mexico's southern border 367
The main routes followed by Central American and other transmigrants in Mexico, 2001–2005 368