Public Scholarship in Literary Studies
Erickson Johnsen, Rosemary, Arteaga, Rachel

Published by Amherst College Press

Erickson Johnsen, Rosemary and Rachel Arteaga.
Public Scholarship in Literary Studies.

For additional information about this book https://muse.jhu.edu/book/94895

For content related to this chapter https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=3006930
CONTENTS

List of Illustrations v
Acknowledgments vii
Introduction
Rachel Arteaga
Public Scholarship in the Age of the Christian Right:
A Self-Interested Tale
Christopher Douglas
What Lasts
Cynthia L. Haven
Takin’ It to the Streets: Public Scholarship in the Heartland
Carmela Williams
Linking Classrooms, Connecting Learning:
The University of Washington Texts and Teachers Program
Gary Handwerk, Anu Taranath, and Christine Chaney Lifting the Color Curtain with the Clemente Course in the Humanities
Jim Cocola
Dancing with the Inductive: The Emergence of a
Centre for Community Engaged Narrative Arts
Daniel Coleman and Lorraine York
Conclusion: Literary Study Writ Large
Rosemary Erickson Johnsen
Appendix: Program Overviews
List of Contributors