Sentencing in Time

Meyer, Linda Ross

Published by Amherst College Press

Meyer, Linda Ross.
Sentencing in Time.

For additional information about this book
https://muse.jhu.edu/book/98628

For content related to this chapter
https://muse.jhu.edu/related_content?type=book&id=3053681
Table of Contents

Introduction ................................................................. 1

I. The phenomenological fallacy: Out of sight, out of time ............. 6

II. The cosmological fallacy: Time is a thing with quantity .......... 9

III. Doing x amount of time for x amount of crime .................... 13

IV. Is meaningfulness itself a kind of justified punishment? ........ 19

V. Bad Time and Good Time .................................................... 27

VI. Alternative: "Serving" a sentence: Sentencing as service ........ 35

VII. Objections and Responses .................................................. 39

Postscript .............................................................................. 47

Appendix: Supreme Court Decisions of Note ............................ 48

In re: Medley ................................................................. 50

Ruiz v. Texas (dissent of Justice Breyer) ............................... 55

Ewing v. California .......................................................... 57

Brown v. Plata ................................................................. 69

Pepper v. United States ..................................................... 80

Miller v. Alabama ............................................................. 92