The National Art Gallery, Singapore, is a new museum scheduled to open in 2015. It will focus on the display, appreciation, promotion, research and study of Southeast Asian and Singaporean art, as well as play host to international art exhibitions.

The City Hall and the adjacent former Supreme Court building — two important heritage buildings symbolic of Singapore's nationhood in the heart of the Civic District — will be converted to house this exciting new visual arts venue.

The National Art Gallery, Singapore, is a subsidiary of the National Heritage Board, Singapore.
