Contents

Foreword

Mitchell Davis (BiblioLabs) i

Introduction

Robert P. Holley (Wayne State University) 1

1 E-Book Self-Publishing and the Los Gatos Library: A Case Study

Henry Bankhead (Los Gatos Library) 5

2 Supporting Self-Publishing and Local Authors: From Challenge to Opportunity

Melissa DeWild and Morgan Jarema (Kent District Library) 21

3 Do Large Academic Libraries Purchase Self-Published Books to Add to Their Collections?

Kay Ann Cassell (Rutgers University) 27

4 Why Academic Libraries Should Consider Acquiring Self-Published Books

Robert P. Holley (Wayne State University) 37
Digital Authoring, Electronic Scholarship, and Libraries: From Walled Garden to Wilderness 47
Donald Beagle (Belmont Abbey College)

Book Vendors and Self-Publishing 65
Bob Nardini (ProQuest Books)

Ingram and Independent Publishing 83
Robin Cutler (Ingram Content Group)

Review Sources of Interest to Librarians for Independently Published Books 103
Eleanor I. Cook (East Carolina University)

Self-Publishing and Bibliographic Control 113
Robert P. Holley (Wayne State University)

Self-Publishing and Libraries: The Slush Pile Is the Platform 125
Tom Bruno (Yale University)

An Indie Author in a Library World 139
AlTonya Washington (Livingstone College)

The Romance of Self-Publishing 149
Elizabeth Nelson (McHenry County College)

Alacrity House Publishing 159
Frankie L. Colton (Alacrity House Publishing)

Self-Publishing: A Bibliographic Essay 171
Joseph D. Grobelny (Front Range Community College)

Index 179