Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS xi

PREFACE xiii
Latino Entrepreneurs: Challenges and Opportunities
Paul Oyer

PART I 1
An Introduction to Latino Entrepreneurship—
Historical Perspectives and Data Sources

CHAPTER 1 3
Introduction: Advancing U.S. Latino Entrepreneurship
Marlene Orozco, Alfonso Morales, Michael J. Pisani, and Jerry I. Porras

CHAPTER 2 15
Entrepreneurs from the Beginning: Latino Business and Commerce since the Sixteenth Century
Geraldo L. Cadava

CHAPTER 3 37
Latino Business and Commerce: A Contemporary View
Michael J. Pisani and Iliana Perez

CHAPTER 4 59
The Economic Contributions of Latino Entrepreneurs
Robert W. Fairlie, Zulema Valdez, and Jody Agius Vallejo
CHAPTER 5
The State of Latino Entrepreneurship: SLEI Research and Findings
Marlene Orozco and Iliana Perez

PART II
Macro Perspectives: A Regional Approach

CHAPTER 6
Latino Farm Entrepreneurship in Rural America
Barbara Robles, Alfonso Morales, and Michael J. Pisani

CHAPTER 7
Shaping Success: Exploring the Evolution of Latino Businesses in Three Major U.S. Counties
Edna Ledesma and Cristina Cruz

CHAPTER 8
Mexican American Founder Narratives at High-Growth Firms on the South Texas–Mexican Border
John Sargent and Linda Matthews

PART III
Micro Perspectives: Individual and Group-Level Analysis

CHAPTER 9
Social Network Utilization among Latino-Owned Business
Elsie L. Echeverri-Carroll and Marie T. Mora

CHAPTER 10
Acculturation and Latino-Owned Business Success: Patterns and Connections
Michael J. Pisani and Joseph M. Guzman

CHAPTER 11
The Business of Language: Latino Entrepreneurs, Language Use, and Firm Performance
Alberto Dávila, Michael J. Pisani, and Gerardo Miranda
CHAPTER 12
How Can Entrepreneurship Serve as a Pathway to Reduce Income Inequality among Hispanic Women?
Ruth E. Zambrana, Leticia C. Lara, Bea Stotzer, and Kathleen Stewart

PART IV
Practice and Policy

CHAPTER 13
SLEI-Education Scaling Program: A Business Program of “National Economic Imperative”
Marlene Orozco

CHAPTER 14
The G.R.E.A.T. Gacela Theory: Increasing Capital and Conditions for Success for High-Potential Latino Entrepreneurs Capable of Transforming Our Economy and Our Country
Monika Mantilla

CONCLUSION
A New National Economic Imperative
Marlene Orozco, Alfonso Morales, Michael J. Pisani, and Jerry I. Porras

ABOUT THE CONTRIBUTORS

INDEX